CODE OF CONDUCT

It is good practice for schools to agree a code of conduct with parents and students before students participate in educational visits. Acceptance of a code will provide all parties with the necessary authority to carry out their responsibilities.

All students should:

- Avoid behaviour that may inconvenience others
- Be considerate to, and of, others at all times
- Respect all requests by school staff and accompanying adults
- Behave at all times in a manner that reflects positively on themselves, the party and the school
- Consult with school staff if in doubt about any issues

Code of Conduct for Parents: We fully appreciate the ongoing and valuable parental support at sporting fixtures and events throughout the year. This code of conduct is a gentle reminder of the sporting ethos, and our joint responsibility to uphold the core principles in terms of our attitude and behaviour before, during and after each sporting event. Match day is inevitably an exciting occasion for all, but it can also be a highly charged affair with emotions running out of control when the stakes appear to be high. At Bromsgrove our aim is to provide a sports programme that is based on positive experiences. We believe in the development of the whole child, the fostering of an 'active life' philosophy and the promotion of a lifetime investment in sport and physical activity. This sporting ethos celebrates enjoyment, equality of access, breadth of participation and excellence both on and off the field. In order for our ethos to be upheld and our sports programme to be truly successful, it takes the cooperation of all involved; players, coaches, staff, spectators and parents.

Parents as role models: Parents and guardians have a responsibility to help make sure their child gets the most out of their playing experience. Parental support should always include positive reinforcement of both your child's performance and of their efforts. This is essential at an early age, to encourage strong self-esteem and a healthy development in general. Parents should aim to be positive role models, including the display of sportsmanship and the notion of fair play and by avoiding negativity of any kind. It is not acceptable for anyone to ridicule or chastise their child, or others, for making a mistake or for losing a game. Parents should encourage children to play according to the rules at all times.
